MANCHESTER COLL.

CENTENNIAL ALMANAC FOR 1882.

JUPITER IS THE RULING PLANET THIS YEAR.

THE YEAR IN GENERAL. — Will be tolerably good, yet more humid than dry; but like Saturn its predecessor, with his long winter and terrible cold, it will be late, so that grain and seed will grow at least three weeks later than in other years.

SPRING. — Until the 1st of May it will be cold and damp; in the middle for ten or twelve days, temperate and thawing weather; after until the end, cold and damp.

SUMMER. — The beginning will be cold and damp, in the middle it will be good, interspersed with much thunder; at the end, quite warm. If in this year the Summer be dry, which scarcely happens in twenty-one years, the grain will be dear. If an Eclipse of the Sun occurs in February, March, April or May, the Summer will be dry.

FALL. — Will have an abundance of rain.

WINTER. — The beginning will have a few days quite cold and much snow; the latter part will be quite mild, without snow, yet very windy.

SPRING CROPS. — This will be a good year for barley. If the summer be not dry, the quality and yield will be good. A good supply should be provided, as in the two following years little is to be expected. Oats, peas and millet will be a light crop. Flax and hemp will be small but good. Hay and aftermath will be good, but not in all places; so also with cabbage and turnips. There will be but little hay, straw and fodder in the two subsequent years, therefore good provision should be made in this year.

FALL CROPS. — Sheep must be kept off both Spring and Fall crops. Even if sheep are not pastured on the grain in the Spring it will be late. Notwithstanding Jupiter is inclined to moisture, the grain, oftentimes in this year, will be later than usual.

FALL-SEEDING. — It is better to sow early, even if the winter sets in late, especially wheat, on account of the rough, dry Spring, which will follow; if the grain should grow too rank, which it seldom does, it may be pastured by sheep.

FRUIT. — There will be but little fruit, and corn, no acorns, and few beech nuts.

HOPS. — Yield light, but very good.

GRAPE CULTURE. — In twenty-eight years it seldom occurs once that in Jupiter's reign there will be choice wine, but little and sour: if adverse aspects interrupt, the fall will be late, and wine will be inferior. The vines need not be covered early, as the winter will be late setting in, yet it must not be neglected, for after Candlemas there will be much sleet. If an eclipse of the Sun occurs in February, March, April or May, when Jupiter, Mars or the Sun rule, the wine will be good.

INTRODUCTION.

As an Almanac is one of the essentials of every household, and as Christian families prefer Almanacs of a Christian character, we have again made preparations to publish the Annual "Brethren's Almanac" for the year 1882. In doing this we have tried to study the wants of our patrons and have endeavored to meet them as far as it was in our power to do so.

We are aware of the diversity of opinion that obtains among us as to what the make-up of such an Almanac should be. And we are equally aware of the fact of our inability of meeting all these wants. And while we could not do so we ask those to remember that if we should be able to meet the views of certain ones there would still be others who would be disappointed.

In preparing matter for its pages we tried to keep in view the general want, and hope that in this we have not altogether failed. By carefully reading it you will find much that can be appropriately adopted by all Christian families. Our space is too limited to give much variety as the Ministerial List is getting so large that a considerable portion of the Almanac is required to contain it.

The 'Ministerial List' has been revised and corrected as far as we had means of doing it, but as always is the case—some held their corrections back until too late for insertion. Up to going to press, these names will be added in an appendix on the cover.

With these remarks we now submit our Almanac for 1882 to the brotherhood, hoping that our efforts to supply our Church with a good Christian Family Almanac will be appreciated and that we shall continue to receive the very liberal patronage that heretofore was given us.

HOW RICH MEN BEGIN LIFE.

Cornelius Vanderbilt began his life with an old piroough running between Staten Island and New York City, carrying garden stuff to market. With $2 000 or $3,000 raised from this source, he entered upon steadily increasing enterprises until he had amassed the enormous sum of $50,000,000.

A. T. Stewart first bought a few laces at auction, and opened his way to success in a dingy little shop in Broadway, near the site of his wholesale establishment. Years of rigid honesty shrewd management, and wisdom in things both great and small, have made him the monumental merchant of the nineteenth century.

Daniel Drew, in his early life, was a cattle driver at the munificent sum of 75 cents a day, and he has now driven himself into an estate valued at from $25,000,000 to $30 000 000.

George Law, at 45 years of age, was a common day laborer on the docks and at present counts his fortune at something like $10 000,000.

Robert L. and Alexander Stuart, the sugar refiners, in their boyhood sold molasses candy, which their widowed mother had made at a cent a stick, and to-day they are worth probably $5,000 000 to $6 000 000 apiece.

Marshall O. Roberts is the possessor of $4 000,000 or $5,000,000, and yet until he was twenty-five he did not have $100 he could call his own.

H. B. Claflin, the eminent dry goods merchant, worth, it is estimated, from $10 000 000 to $15,000,000 commenced business with nothing but energy, determination and hope.

LOOK AFTER THE EYES.

Multitudes of men and women have made their eyes weak for life by too free use of eyesight, reading small print, and doing fine sewing. In view of these things it is well to observe the following rules in the use of the eyes: Avoid all sudden changes between light and darkness.

Never read by twilight, or on a very cloudy day.

Never sleep so that on waking the eyes shall open on the light of the window.

Do not use eyesight by light so scant that it requires an effort to discriminate.

Never read or sew directly in front of the light of a window.

It is best to have the light from above, or obliquely, or over the left shoulder.

Too much light creates a glare, and pains and confuses the sight. As soon as you are sensible of an effort to distinguish, that moment stop and talk, walk or ride.

As the sky is blue and the earth green, it would seem that the ceiling should be a bluish tinge, the carpet green, and the walls of some mellow tint.

The moment you are instinctively inclined to rub the eyes that moment cease to use them.

If the eyelids are glued together on waking, do not forcibly open them, but apply saliva with the finger, and then wash your eyes and face with warm water.

CONJECTURES OF THE WEATHER.

The 1st, 2nd variable; 3rd, 4th cloudy; 5th, 6th cold; 7th, 8th clear; 9th, 10th snow; 11th, 12th, 13th coldest days; 14th, 15th, 16th moderate; 17th, 18th cloudy; 19th, 20th snow; 21st clear; 22nd, 23rd fair; 24th, 25th variable; 26th, 27th, 28 clear, cold; 29th, 30th, 31st clear.

MOON'S PHASES.

Full Moon the 4th, at 5 o'clock 57 min., morn.; cloudy.
Last Quarter the 12th, at 10 o'clock 46 min., foren.; cold.
New Moon the 19th, at 11 o'clock 36 min., foren.; snow.
First Quarter the 26th, at 2 o'clock 43 min., morn.; clear.

PERPETUAL WEATHER TABLE.

The following weather table, constructed by Prof. Herschel, will be found wonderfully correct:

If the moon changes at 12 o'clock, noon, the weather immediately after will be very rainy, in summer, and there will be snow or rain, in winter.

If between 3 and 4 o'clock p. m., changeable in summer—fair and mild in winter.

Between 4 and 6 o'clock, fair both in winter and summer.

Between 6 and 10 o'clock, p. m., in summer, fair, if the wind is northwest; rainy, if south or southwest. In winter, fair and frosty, if the wind is from the south or southwest.

Between 10 and 12 p. m., rainy in summer, and fair and frosty in winter.

Between 12 at night and 2 o'clock a. m., fair in summer, and frosty in winter—unless the wind is from the south or southeast.

Between 2 and 4 a. m., cold and very showery in summer, and snow and storm in winter.

Between 4 and 6 o'clock a. m., rainy both in summer and winter.

Between 6 and 8 o'clock a. m., showery in summer, and cold in winter.

Between 10 and 12 o'clock a. m., showery in summer and cold and windy in winter.

THE BOY WHO LOVES HIS MOTHER.

Of all the love affairs in the wor'd, none can surpass the true love of a big boy for his mother. It is a love pure and noble, honorable in the highest degree to both. I do not mean merely a dutiful affection. I mean a love which makes a boy gallant to his mother, saying plainly to everybody that he is fairly in love with her. Next to the love of her husband, nothing so crowns a woman's life with honor as this second love, this devotion of the son to her. And I never yet knew a boy to "turn out" badly who began by falling in love with his mother. Any man who falls in love with a fresh-faced girl, and the man who is gallant to the girl may cruelly neglect the worn and weary wife. But the big boy who is a lover of his mother, at middle age is a true knight, who will love his wife as much in the sere-leaf autumn as he did in dasied spring. There is nothing so beautifully chivalrous as the love of a big boy for his mother.

REMEDIES.

REMEDY FOR CROUP.—Half a teaspoonful of pulverized alum in a little molasses. It is a simple remedy, one almost always at hand, and one dose seldom fails to give relief. If it should, repeat it after one hour.

Hoarseness is relieved by using, thoroughly beaten, the white of an egg with lemon juice and sugar. Take a teaspoonful occasionally.

CURING BUNIONS.—These terrible torments can be easily removed by using a weak solution of carbolic acid on them for about a month. They will entirely disappear.

The London Milk Journal says that a pint of milk heated a little, but not boiled, taken every four hours, will check the most violent diarrhoea, stomach-ache, incipient cholera, and dysentery.

A Simple and Effectual Remedy for Ivy Poisoning, is said to be sweet spirits of nitre. Bathe the affected parts freely two or three times during the day, and the next morning scarcely any trace of the poison will remain.

A Simple Remedy for Neuralgia, is horse-radish. Grate and mix it in vinegar, the same as for table purposes, and apply to the temple when the head or face is affected, or the wrist when the pain is in the arm or shoulder.

FOR EARACHE.—Take a bit of cotton batting, put upon it a pinch of black pepper; gather it up and tie it, dip it in sweet oil, and insert it in the ear. Put a flannel bandage over the head to keep it warm. It will give immediate relief.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF.—Take one ounce of flower of sulphur, put into a quart of soft water; stir well and let stand for twenty-four hours, shaking frequently. Pour off the clear liquid, and wet the scalp with it every morning, or two or three times a week for a month or more. The dandruff will soon disappear, and the hair become soft and glossy.

DYSPEPSIA.—A simple and effectual remedy for dyspepsia is to abstain from drinking immediately before and during meals, and for an hour afterwards.

INDIAN DYSENTERY REMEDY.—Root and leaves of blackberry bush boiled down; a gill before each meal and before going to bed.

MARRIAGE FORMULAS.

As frequent requests are sent us for marriage forms we think it may be acceptable to have several in the Almanac which may meet the general want. We therefore submit a few which are in harmony with the general usage and may serve as a guide to those who may be called upon to officiate in this capacity.

After it has been ascertained that the parties are proper and legal subjects for marriage, and they have taken their respective positions the following forms may be used:

DOUBLE FORMULA.

Minister.—As you have now presented yourselves before me for the purpose of being united in holy matrimony, I ask you, (addressing the husband) Do you take this woman (the one at his side) to be your lawful wedded wife, to stand by, provide for, and protect her, forsaking all others and cleaving to her alone, until separated by death?

Answer by the man: "I do."

Minister, to the woman.—Do you take this man to be your lawful wedded husband, to stand by, love and respect him, forsaking all others and cleaving to him alone until separated by death?

Answer by the woman: "I do."

Minister.—By virtue of the authority invested in me as a minister of the Gospel and in accord with the laws of the State (here name the State) I pronounce you man and wife.

Prayer.—And may the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob guide you, by his Spirit through life, bless you, and in death save you for Christ's sake. Amen.

As the desire is becoming very general to have these ceremonies as short as possible believing that a sermon or lecture on such occasions are not edifying, we also give what is usually called the

SINGLE FORMULA.

After all is in readiness, the minister addresses the party to be married as follows:

Do you, and each of you, promise to take each other as husband and wife, performing towards each other the proper functions of the marriage state, forsaking all others and cleaving to each other, until separated by death?

(Answer by the man) "I do."

(By the woman) "I do."

Minister.—By virtue of my authority as a minister of the Gospel and in accord with the laws of the State, (name the State) I pronounce you man and wife.

Prayer, the same as that of the first formula, or any other suitable prayer can be used.

THE NUMBER SEVEN.

This number is frequently used in the writings of the Bible.

On the 7th day God ended his work.

On the 7th month Noah's Ark touched the ground.

In 7 days a dove was sent out.

Abraham pleaded 7 times for Sodom.

Jacob served seven years for Rachel.

And yet others 7 more.

Jacob mourned 7 days for Joseph

Jacob was pursued a 7 day's journey by Laban.

A plenty of 7 years and a famine of 7 years were foretold in Pharaoh's dream, by 7 fat and 7 lean beasts, and 7 ears of full and 7 ears of blasted corn.

On the 7th day of the 7th month, the children of Israel fasted 7 days and remained 7 days in tents.

Every 7th year the land rested.

Every 7th year the bondman were all let free.

Every 7th year the law was read to the people.

In the destruction of Jericho, 7 priests bore 7 trumpets 7 days; on the 7th day they surrounded the wall 7 times; at the end of the 7th round the walls fell.

Solomon was 7 years building the temple, and fasted 7 days at its dedication

In the tabernacle were seven lamps.

The golden candlestick had 7 branches.

Naaman washed 7 times in Jordan.

Jacob's friends sat with him 7 days and 7 nights, and offered 7 bullocks and 7 rams as an atonement.

Our Savior spoke 7 times from the cross, on which he hung 7 hours, and after his resurrection appeared 7 times.

In the Lord's prayer are 7 petitions containing 7 times 7 words.

In the Revelations we read of 7 churches, 7 candlesticks, 7 stars, 7 trumpets, 7 plagues, 7 vails, 7 angels, and a 7-headed monster.

DATES OF SACRED EVENTS.

We give the following dates of events so sacred to all Christians on the authority of the late Rev. Samual Farmer Jarvis D. D., LL. D, an eminent scholar and divine of the Episcopal Church, whose profound learning and diligent researches into antiquities would have distinguished him in any age:

Our Savior was born on Wednesday, December 25, 4707, Julian period; 193d Olympiad (2d year, 6th month); A. U. C. 747 (9th month, 5th day); Julian year. 39.

He was baptized by St. John in the river Jordan on Sabbath (Saturday), January 6, 4738.

His public entry into Jerusalem was on Palm Sunday, March 21, 4741, Julian period; 201st Olympiad (4th year 9th month); A. U. C. 780; Julian year 73, A. D. 28; 19th year of the associate reign of the Emperor Tiberius; 15th year of his sole reign.

He was betrayed by Judas Iscariot on the following Wednesday evening, March 24.

He celebrated the Passover and instituted the Eucharist on Thursday evening, March 25.

On Friday morning, March 16 at the 3d hour or 9 o'clock, he was nailed to the cross; the hour when the lamb of the daily morning sacrifice was offered in the Temple. At the 9th hour, or 3 o'clock P. M., when the lamb of the daily evening sacrifice was offered in the Temple, he expired. At 5 P. M. his body was taken down and deposited in the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea.

On the first Easter Sunday, March 28, about the beginning of the morning watch, or 3 o'clock A. M., he rose from the dead. It was the morrow after the last Jewish Sabbath, when, according to the law, the first sheaf of the earliest ripe grain was waved in the Temple, by which the whole harvest was sacrificed, that Christ "the first fruits," rose from the dead, as a type and pledge of the future resurrection of his faithful followers.

On Thursday, May 6, he ascended into heaven.

On Sunday, May 16 the day of Pentecost, the Holy Ghost descended upon the apostles and disciples.

A CENTURY'S CHANGES.

The nineteenth century has witnessed many and great discoveries

In 1808, Fulton took the first patent for the invention of the steamboat.

The first steamboats which made regular trips across the Atlantic Ocean were the Sirius and the Great Western, in 1830.

The first public application to practical use of gas for practical illumination, was made in 1802.

In 1813, the streets of London were for the first time lighted with gas.

In 1790, there were only twenty-five post-offices in the whole country and up to 1837 the rates of postage were twenty-five cents for every four hundred miles.

1807, wooden clocks commenced to be made by machinery. This ushered in the era of cheap clocks.

About the year 1833, the first railroad of any considerable length, in the United States, was constructed.

In 1840 the first experiments in photography were made by Daguerre.

About 1840 the first express business was established.

The anthracite coal business may be said to have begun in 1820.

In 1846, the first patent for the invention in matches was granted.

In 1845, the first telegram was sent.

Steel pens were introduced for use in 1803.

The first successful trial of a reaper took place in 1833.

In 1845, Elias Howe obtained a patent for his sewing machine.

The first successful method of making vulcanized India rubber was patented in 1838.

BE WHAT YOU ARE.

Do not be above your business, no matter what that may be, but strive to be the best in that line. He who turns up his nose at his work quarrels with his bread and butter. He is a poor smith who quarrels with his own sparks; there's no shame about an honest calling; don't be afraid of soiling your hands, there's plenty of soap to be had. You cannot get honey if you are frightened at bees nor plant corn if you are afraid of getting mud on your boots. Above all, avoid laziness. There is plenty to do in this world for every pair of hands placed in it, and we must so work that the world will be richer because of our having lived in it.

CHRIST'S LOVE.

I can measure parental love—how broad, how long and strong and deep it is; it is a sea—a deep sea, which mothers only can fathom. But the love displayed on yonder hill and bloody cross, where God's own Son is perishing for us, no man nor angel has a line to measure. The circumference of the earth, the altitude of the sun, the distance of the planets—these have been determined: but the height, depth, breadth and length of the love of God pass our knowledge. Such is the Father against whom all of us have sinned a thousand times! Walk the shore where the ocean sleeps in the summer calm, or, lashed into fury by the winter's tempest, is thundering on her sands; and when you have numbered the drops of her waves, the sand on her rounding beach you have numbered God's mercies and your sins. Well therefore may we go to Him with the contrition of the prodigal in our hearts, and his confession on our lips: "Father I have sinned against heaven and in Thy sight." The Spirit of God helping us to go to God, be assured that the Father who, seeing his son afar off, ran to meet him, fell on his neck, and kissed him, was but an image of Him, who not sparing His own Son but giving Him up to death that we might live, invites and now awaits our coming.—Dr. Guthrie.

SALT FOR THE THROAT.

In these days when the diseases of the throat are so universally prevalent, and in so many cases fatal, we feel it our duty to say a word in behalf of a most effectual, if not positive, cure for sore throat.

For many years past, indeed we may say during the whole of a life of more than forty years we have been subject to sore throat, and more particularly to a dry hacking cough, which is not only distressing to ourselves, but to our friends and those with whom we are brought into business.

Last fall we were induced to try what virtue there was in common salt. We commenced by using it three times a day—morning noon and night. We dissolved a large tablespoonful of pure table salt in about a half small tumbler full of water. With this we gargle the throat most thoroughly just before meal time. The result has been that during the entire winter we were not only free from coughs and colds, but the dry hacking cough has entirely disappeared.

We attribute this satisfactory results solely to the use of salt gargle, and most cordially recommend a trial of it to those who are subject to this disease of the throat.

Many persons who have never tried the salt gargle have the impression that it is unpleasant. Such is not the case. On the contrary, it is pleasant, and after a few days use no person who loves a nice clean mouth and a first-rate sharper of the appetite will abandon it.—Ex.

DO IT NOW.

Don't spend an hour of your life without doing exactly what is to be done in it, and going straight through with it from beginning to end. Work, play, study, whatever it is—take hold at once, and finish it up squarely and cleanly, and then to the next without letting any moments drop out between. It is wonderful to see how many hours these prompt people contrive to make out of a day; it is as if they picked up the moments that the dawdlers lost. And if ever you find yourself where you have so many things pressing upon you that you hardly know how to begin, let me tell you a secret, take hold of the very first one that comes to hand, and you will find the rest all fall into file and follow after like a company of well-drilled soldiers; and though work may be hard to meet when it charges in a squad, it is easily vanquished if you can bring it into line. You men have often seen the anecdote of the man who was asked how he accomplished so much in life. "My father taught me," was the reply, "when I had anything to do, to go and do it." There is the secret—the magic word 'now.'

KEEP BUSY.

The man who has nothing to do is the most miserable of beings. If you have no regular work, do chores as the farmers do when it rains too hard to work in the field. In occupation, we forget our troubles, and get a respite from sorrow. The man whose mind and hands are busy, finds no time to weep and wail. If work is slack, spend your time in reading. No man ever knew too much.

FASHIONABLE WOMEN.

Fashion kills more women than toil and sorrow. Obedience to fashion is a greater transgression of the laws of woman's nature, a greater injury to her physical and mental constitution than poverty and neglect. The slave-woman at her tasks will live and grow old, and see two or three generations of her mistresses fade and pass away. The washer-woman with scarce a ray of hope to cheer her in her toils, will live to see her fashionable sisters die all around her. The kitchen-maid is hearty and strong, when her lady has to be nursed like a sick baby. It is a sad truth that fashion-pampered women are almost worthless for all the ends of human life. They have but little force of character; they have still less power of moral will, and quite as little physical energy. They live for no great purpose in life; they accomplish no worthy ends. They are only doll forms in the hands of milliners and servants, to be dressed and fed to order. They write no books; they set no rich examples of virtue and womanly life. If they rear children, servants and nurses do all, save to conceive and give them birth—and when reared what are they? What do they ever amount to but weak scions of the old stock? Who ever heard of a fashionable woman's child exhibiting any virtue or power of mind for which it became eminent? Read the biographies of our great and good men and women. Not one of them had a fashionable mother. They nearly all sprang from a strong-minded woman, who had about as little to do with fashion as with the changing clouds.

AN INJURIOUS PRACTICE.

"Picking the ears" is a most injurious practice. In attempting to do this with hard substances, an unlucky motion has many a time pierced the drum and made it as useless as a pierced India rubber life-preserver. Nothing sharper or harder than the end of the little finger, with the nail paired, ought ever to be introduced into the ear, unless by a physician. Persons are often seen endeavoring to remove the 'wax' of the ear with the head of a pin.

This ought never be done; because it not only endangers the rupture of the ear by being pushed too far in, but if not so far, it may grate against the drum, excite the inflammation and an ulcer which will finally eat all the parts away, especially if of a scrofulous constitution. Hard substances have often slipped in, and caused the necessity of painful, dangerous and expensive operations, to fish or cut it out. The wax is manufactured by nature to guard the entrance from dust, insects and unmodified cold air, and when it has subserved its purpose, it becomes dry, scaly, light, and in this condition is easily pushed outside by new formations of wax within.

EXPANDING THE LUNGS.

Step out into the purest air you can find; stand perfectly erect, with head and shoulders back, and then, fixing the lips as if you were going to whistle, draw the air through the lips into the lungs. When your chest is about half full, gradually raise the arms, keeping them extended, with the palms of the hands down, as you suck in the air, so as to bring them over the head just as the lungs are full. Then drop the thumbs inward, and after gently forcing the arms backward and the chest open reverse the process by which you draw your breath till the lungs are empty. This process should be repeated immediately after bathing, and also several times through the day. It is impossible to describe to one who has never tried it, the glorious sense of vigor which follows this exercise. It is the best expectorant in the world. We know a gentleman the measure of whose chest has been increased by this means three or four inches during as many months.

A TRUE GENTLEMAN.

Show us a man who can quit the society of the young, and take pleasure in listening to the kindly voice of the old; show us a man who is always ready to pity and help the deformed; show us a man that covers the faults of others with a mantle of charity; show us a man that bows as politely and give the street as freely to the poor sewing girl as to the millionaire; show us a man who abhors the libertine who scorns the slanderer of his mother's sex and the exposure of womanly reputation; show us the man who never forgets the delicacy and respect due a woman in any condition—and you show us a gentleman.

ANCIENT WONDERS.

Nineveh was fourteen miles long, eight miles wide, and forty-six miles around, with a wall one hundred feet high, and thick enough for three chariots abreast.

Babylon was fifty miles within the walls, which were seventy-three feet thick and one hundred feet high, with one hundred brazen gates.

The Temple of Diana, at Ephesus, was four hundred and twenty feet to the support of the roof—it was one hundred years in building.

The largest of the pyramids was four hundred and eighty-one feet in height, and eight hundred and fifty three feet on the sides. The base covered eleven acres. The stones are about sixty feet in length, and the layers are two hundred and eight. It employed 350,000 men in building.

The labyrinth of Egypt contains three hundred chambers and twelve halls.

Thebes, in Egypt, presents ruins twenty-seven miles around, and contained 350,000 citizens and 400 000 slaves.

The Temple of Delphos was so rich in donations that it was plundered of $50,000,000, and the Emperor Nero carried away from it two hundred statues. The walls were thirteen miles around.

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

A man's house should be his earthly paradise. It should be, of all other spots, one which he leaves with the most regret and to which he returns with the most delight. And in order to make it so, it should be his daily task to provide everything convenient and comfortable for his wife. With every provision he can possibly make, hers will be a life of care and of toil. She is the sentinel who can seldom, if ever, be relieved. Others may sleep, but if there be one who must watch it is she. She ought, therefore, to be furnished with every comfort within the means of her husband. Generally, every shilling expended for the accommodations of his wife in her domestic operations is returned upon him fourfold, if not precisely in pecuniary advantages. though this is often true, it will be found in the order, peace, and happiness of the family.

DON'T DO IT.

Don't grumble about your lot. Many a man has not even a leasehold.

Don't boast of your virtues. You might tempt the devil to invoice your vices.

Don't flatter yourself that you are bound for Heaven. Heaven is not reached by a single bound.

Don't marry in haste and "repent at leisure." It may require more leisure than you have at your disposal.

Don't grieve over "what might have been." You might have been a Councilman.

Don't strive for the unattainable. Better get a job in the brickyard.

Don't "rest on your laurels." Try something more substantial; a corn-husk mattress, for instance.

Don't throw stones at your neighbor. The world might very naturally inquire if you are without sin.

A CURE FOR CORNS.

There is but one cure for corns and that is: Take a lemon and roll it until soft; cut a thick slice and bind it on the corn on retiring at night. In the morning if the corn is white and disintegrated, pull it out with your finger-nails, never cut a corn. Sometimes several applications of the lemon slices will be necessary, but the corns are bound to succumb, and you can dance the next night if you like. After you remove the corns wear shoes that fit and are not too stiff in the soles.

TEA AND COFFEE.

The eminent Dr. Bock, of Leipsic, writes as follows respecting the influence of tea and coffee on character:—

"The nervousness and peevishness of our times are chiefly attributed to tea and coffee; the digestive organs of confirmed coffee drinkers are in a state of chronic derangement, which reacts on the brain, producing fretful and lachrymose moods. Fine ladies addicted to strong coffee have a characteristic temper, which I might describe as a mania for acting the persecuted saint. Chocolate is neutral in its physic effects, and is really the most harmless of our fashionable drinks. The snappish, petulant humor of the Chinese can certainly be ascribed to their immoderate fondness for tea."

BROTHER CHRISTOPHER SAUR'S JOURNAL.

The original is a 12mo half bound volume, with leather back and corners containing about one hundred pages of carelessly written German manuscript much of it with such poor ink that it is hard to decipher. The heading or title of it, as near as I can give it in English is "A Memorandum of some Remarkable Occurrences that have occurred to me, Christopher Saur" Then he goes on and says:

"I was born on the 26th of September, 1721, in the town of Laasphe in the province of Wittenstein, six leagues (about eighteen miles) from Marburg, and came over to Pennsylvania with my dear father, Christopher Saur, in the Autumn of 1724, and lived in Germantown till in the Spring of 1726 we moved to Lancaster county, Pa., and lived on Mill Creek till April 1731 we moved back again to Germantown.

"I was born again, through the holy ordinance of baptism, on the 24th of February, 1737.

"My father commenced his printing office in the Summer of 1738. See note a at the close.

"I commenced my hermitage (Einsidler stand) in the fall of 1743. See note b.

"My mother moved to me about the middle of November, 1744. Note b.

"My mother took charge again of my father's household on the 20th of June 1745. Notes b and c.

"In May, 1747, the Brethren laid on me the office of poor server (Armen Diener) or deacon.

"On the 1st of June, 1748, I was chosen with the four brethren to the service of the church, and on the 8th of the same month the care or oversight (aufsicht) of the church was laid upon me and brother Alexander Mack, on trial. Note d.

"On the 3d of November, 1748, I baptized for the first time.

"On the 4th of December, 1752, my beloved mother fell asleep in the Lord.

"On the 10th of June, 1753, hands were laid on me and on brother Alexander Mack, and on brother Henry Schlinguff. Note e.

"On the 25th of September, 1758, my beloved father fell asleep in the Lord, aged 64 years.

"On the 8th of January, 1777, my beloved wife Catharine fell asleep, happy in the Lord, aged 47 years and 9 months." &c., &c.

Here commences the American Revolution, during which trying time he made many notes, but that my paper may not get too long I pass over that period entirely, as I have many other entries until under date of "August 9th, 1780," he says, "I took a journey to the Schuylkill, (now called Coventry, in Chester county, Pa.,) and on the 10th I went from there, with brother Martin Urner, to the Little Swatara. On the 12th we had meeting there and laid hands on the following brethren, viz: Martin Gaby as overseer (Vorsteher), David Kintzy, as assistant speaker or Diener, in Oey, and Michael Frantz, as overseer; and George Bashor and Jacob Meyer, as speakers or preachers at the Little Swatara. On the 15th of August we laid hands on brother George Miller at the Big Swatara to confirm him as overseer of the church there. We also had meeting there. On the 16th we went in the White Oak church where we laid hands on brother Johannas Zug to confirm him in the office of overseer, to serve under brother Christel Longenecker, but in case brother Longenecker should die, be sick, be on a journey or move away, he is fully empowered to serve the office, but, except in the above cases, he shall not undertake anything of importance without brother Longenecker's counsel and advice. Had also a large meeting there. On the 17th we had meeting at brother George Royer's, and on the 18th at brother Michael Ranck's." &c., &c.

After several other notes comes his family record, then a long list of the persons he baptized, also of those he married; and next is a list of friends and brethren, when they died, not only of the church in Germantown, but of most others as far as he was personally acquainted with them; after which follow miscellaneous memorandums, accounts etc., that are not of general interest, shall therefore let the above suffice.

NOTE A.

Christopher Saur was not professionally a printer, but a clerk and mathematical instrument maker. After the persecutions had driven nearly all the mother church from Schwartzenu and Berlinburgh, where the Brethren had a small printing press, it was sent after them to Germantown, where it came into the custody of Christopher Saur, and as he was naturally a genius he experimented in setting type and soon got into the way of printing small matters. And as there was at that time such a pressing necessity for printing, he turned more of his attention to it and became a very extensive publisher. We have at least one hundred and fifty titles of books and pamphlets that he printed in course of forty years.

NOTES B AND C.

In consequence of Conrad Beissel (founder of a nunnery at Ephrata) preaching so much on the virtues of celibacy, a number of young men established themselves in hermitages of single livings, among them being Christopher Saur, Jr., while many others went to the nunnery. Several wives did also leave their husbands on account of this doctrine, among them being the wife of the elder Christopher Saur. She left him for the nunnery in 1730 and soon became Vice-Prioress of the institution, under the conventional name of Marcella until 1744, when, on account of her infirmities, she was entreated by her son Christopher to come back. She went back to her son, but did not unite with her husband until sometime afterwards when his sickness required her attention.

NOTE D.

It was the custom among our ancient brethren to elect all officers on trial, then, if approved, they were confirmed in their several offices by the laying on of hands.

NOTE E.

There were four elected at the same time to serve the church in different capacities, but one of them, Martin Urner, had moved to Coventry, therefore, on this occasion hands were laid on the three only, while the fourth one was not present, but they were laid on him soon afterwards, and he became an eminent worker in the church. Henry Schlingluff was also confirmed in his office as deacon by the laying on of hands, but was never advanced any further, although he was a very worthy deacon (or Armen Diener) to the close of his life.

WHERE ALL THE DEAD PRESIDENTS ARE BURIED.

The body of George Washington is resting in a brick vault at Mt. Vernon enclosed in a marble coffin.

John Adams was buried in a vault beneath the Unitarian church at Quincy. The tomb is wall-enclosed in with large blocks of roughly faced granite.

John Quincy Adams lies in the same vault by the side of his father. In the church above, on either side of the pulpit, are tablets of clouded marble, each surmounted by a bust and inscribed with the familiar epitaphs of the only father and son that ever held the highest office in the gift of the American people

Thomas Jefferson lies in a small unpretentious private cemetery of one hundred feet square near Monticello.

James Madison's remains rest in a beautiful spot on the old Madison estate near Orange, Va.

James Monroe's body reposes in Hollywood Cemetery, Va., on an eminence surrounding a beautiful view of Richmond and the James river. Above the body is a huge block of polished Virginia marble supporting a coffin-shaped block of granite, on which are brass plates suitably inscribed. The whole is surrounded by a sort of gothic temple—four pillars supporting a peaked roof to which something of the appearance of a bird-cage is imparted by filling in the interstices with iron gratings.

Andrew Jackson was buried in the corner of the Garden of the Hermitage, eleven miles from Nashville. The tomb is eighteen feet in diameter, surrounded by fluted columns and surmounted by an urn. The tomb is surrounded by magnolia trees.

Martin Van Buren was buried in the cemetery at Kinderhook. The monument is a plain granite shaft fifteen feet high.

William Henry Harrison was buried at North Bend, fifteen miles from Cincinnati.

John Tyler's body rests within ten yards of that of James Monroe in Hollywood cemetery, Richmond. It is marked by no monument, but it is surrounded by magnolias and flowers.

James K. Polk lies in the private garden of the family residence in Nashville, Tenn. It is marked by a limestone monument with Doric columns.

Zachariah Taylor was buried in Cave Hill cemetery, Louisville. The body was subsequently to be removed to Frankfort, where a suitable monument was to be erected, commemorative of his distinguished services.

Millard Fillmore's remains lie in the beautiful Forest Lawn cemetery of Buffalo, and is surmounted by a lofty shaft of Scotch granite.

Franklin Pierce was buried in the Concord, N H, cemetery, and his grave is marked by a monument of Italian marble.

James Buchanan's remains lie in the Woodward Hill cemetery at Lancaster Pa., in a vault of heavy masonry. The monument is composed of a simple block of Italian marble.

Abraham Lincoln rests in Oak Ridge cemetery, Springfield, Ill., enclosed in a sarcophagus of white marble. The monument is a great pile of marble, granite and bronze.

Andrew Johnson's grave is on a cone-shaped eminence, half a mile from Greenville, Tenn. The monument is of marble, beautifully ornamented.

The body of James A. Garfield was placed in a tomb at Cleveland, amid the tears of the civilized world.

BIBLE ARITHMETIC.

ADDITION.—Add to your fath, virtue; and to virtue, knowledge; and to knowledge, temperance, and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness; and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, charity. 2 Peter 1:5-7.

Add in your heart this perfect number of seven graces together and if these things be in you and abound, they will make you neither barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

SUBTRACTION.—He that lacketh these things is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins. 2 Peter 1:9.

MULTIPLICATION.—Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord. 2 Peter 1:2.

He that ministereth seed to the sower both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness. 2 Cor. 9:10.

DIVISION.—Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and will be a father unto you and ye shall be My sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty. 2 Cor. 6:17-18.

WISDOM.

Every lie, great or small, is the brink of a precipice, the depth of which none but Omniscience can fathom.

When our cup runs over we let others drink the drops that fall, but not a drop within the rim and call it charity.

True friends visit us in prosperity only when invited, but in adversity they come without invitation.
